Dear [redacted]

Your letter of September 15, 1958, has been received, and I am thankful for your generous remarks about "Masters of Deceit." It is good to know that my book has been so well received at the Seminary.

I appreciate your interest in advising me about [redacted] and I would like to be of service; however, I do not see how I could advise him without interviewing him at length. Frankly, my schedule is so heavy it will not be possible for me to do this.

Sincerely yours,

God willing, it'll be ordained in this business is a long time.

I am not writing about myself,
but about you and someone else.

In brief, I'm writing to you because you are the only one in Washington I can say
I know and I need a contact with someone I know in Washington. Sure, we have never met, but thru your book,
"Masters of Deceit", "The F.B.I.

by you, plus the many articles about you and your staff, and finally just plain hearsay - I have come to know you and those who work with you.

By the way, your latest book, others are waiting in turn for it.

That's something as far as I'm concerned, especially when you stop to consider that Communism isn't something new or novel with us. We bucked them from the beginning, and as you know their two main enemies are Rome and the U.S. - Papacy and Capitalism - Religion and our American form of government.

I guess, I'm off on a tangent, so I better get to the point.

Last week, a fellow left here after three years of temporary vows in our society and major seminary. When he came six years ago, he wasn't sure of his vocation; still he had the courage to give it a try, and finding out that his location was not to this kind of life, left a better and happier man. He was one of these big characters - the kind you would imagine as Captains of High School football teams. In fact, he was one. But, besides a couple muscles, he has a good head on shoulders.

Sir, since you know the condition of our country more than most, its weak points and bad points, I was wondering if you could give some advice, considering the different needs of our country, as to how this young man could best serve his God and country.

Hoah, I'm not asking that he become an F.B.I. man. That's not my point. For maybe he would make a good one and maybe he wouldn't. I don't know. What I'm driving at is something general not specific.

Sacred Heart Seminary

SHELBY, O. (Missionaries of the Sacred Heart) TEL. 42886

I'm merely inquiring which field of labor you think has the more pressing needs for the good of our country. There are many fields - Government, Education, Labor - Management, Writing, Social Service, etc.

You see when a fellow has been away from the world for six years, he doesn't know what to do and how to go about it. In three words, he needs help. Without help, a lot of fellows when they leave, put their time in the service, come home, get a little job and settle down raising a family. This is good, but sometimes it wonders whether God had different plans for them, with all their talents.

That's why I'm writing to you.
I sincerely hope I'm not doing the wrong thing. If I am, like a father forgive his son and say,
"He just doesn't know any better."

If you are not too busy and could give some advice, I would really appreciate it. For with good advice, he would go all the way for the cause of his country and God. He has learned a lot here - obedience, character, selflessness, dedication, etc. He has a great love for his country and is prepared to serve it even to the giving of his life. He knows communism, hates it, and will fight it, for he knows that his country was founded on God and man's God-given rights, and in serving such a country,
he is serving the cause of God.

Well, this is about all I wanted to say. I hope I have not been too long. It's rather

I am reading "Masters of Deceit" and now wish I had read it a long time ago. You surely "lay the facts on the line," which is what many of us Americans need today.

As to the idea, couldn't your book be used as a text-book in the secondary and college schools? And parts of it be incorporated into civics, which are studied by the higher elementary grades. 62-104277-971

To be frank, I have seen real communism practiced in the U.S.A. among religious orders and sects. But their leader is God; not Marx or Lenin.

I hope you don't think that this is a "crack-pot" letter, because I am sincerely concerned about our country. Having been fortunate enough to have been born in America, I think I'd rather be dead than living under the despotic rule of the Soviet Union.

FROM : Legat, Tokyo (66-58A)

SUBJECT: "MASTERS OF DECEIT"
RESEARCH (CRIME RECORDS)

DATE: 9/19/58

Re Tokyo radiogram to Bureau 8/4/58.

It may be of interest to the Bureau to know that on 9/2/58 Mr. PAUL MODIC, Publications Officer, U. S. Information Service, American Consulate General, Hong Kong, B.C.C., advised that a query was sent by his office to USIA, Washington, D. C. regarding publication in Chinese of a condensed version of "Masters of Deceit" after an interest had been expressed in presenting the book in Chinese by Consul General JAMES BYRD PILCHER, Hong Kong. USIS is now awaiting clearance from Washington before taking any further action at Hong Kong. Union Press will probably be asked to do the book if it is approved but has not yet been approached in this regard.

MODIC noted that Union Press has proved undoubtedly to be the best local group in the field of anti-Communist publications. It has been utilized frequently by USIS and has received continued financial support from the Asia Foundation.

ACCORDING TO THE COMMUNIST PATTERN

Editor, Alabama Journal:

On reading the account in the Sept. 6 issue of the Advertiser entitled "Police Head Balks Jail Term," am I right in feeling that the method that the Rev. King uses is the same one used by the Communists?

I have just finished reading the book, "Masters of Deceit," by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, and I am quite curious about the similarity between King's approach and that attributed to the communists by Mr. J. Edgar Hoover. According to Mr. Hoover, communist agitators achieve their end by creating problems and fanning the flames. The techniques which King uses are curiously similar to those which Mr. Hoover attributes to communist agitators. My interest was aroused when I read of the mimeographed statement which King's supporters provided to the press in the form of a letter to Judge Loe. (I wonder if the original was mailed directly to him?) On page 168 of Mr. Hoover's book, in one of his references to the methods of propaganda, he stated "... mimeographed, they represent an easy, cheap, and effective method of stirring up trouble." Although the Rev.

King presents himself as a disciple of Christ, it is of real interest that the techniques that he has adopted are so reminiscent of those of the communist agitators as described by J. Edgar Hoover. I cannot help but wonder how and where he learned how to use the court, the press, and the police department to strive for his own advantage. His insistence on stimulating a "class consciousness," and presenting himself as a champion of the "under-dog" fits so well into the pattern that one cannot help but wonder whether he is an agent of the Communist party or simply their dupe.

I make two pleas to my fellow readers: First, I ask them to watch carefully for the methods used by agitators when they exaggerate our domestic problems in trying to bring about the destruction of America; and second, I ask them to recognize the patience and fortitude which has been demonstrated by the Montgomery Police Department in the face of situations created by well-trained professional agitators.

King may not be dealing from the Communist deck, but he is playing their hand admirably. His approach might gain power for a select group of white men in a communist state; but it gives nothing of value to either white man or Negro in our free American democracy.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

As one of the first to buy and study your monumental expose' of the Great Fraud, I would like to offer you my humble thanks and congratulations for this grave warning of the savage conspiracy now threatening our country and our lives.

While not uninformed as to the seriousness of this threat and the machinations of the barbaric enemy it is hardly within the province of the ordinary citizen to do more than awaken concern among a few of the more intelligent. In my opinion there is a most deplorable lack of propaganda which would alert the now indifferent to the danger now threatening their lives and property, and that liberty under just laws which is our well earned heritage.

To overcome this I would suggest that well chosen and condensed excerpts from Masters of Deceit be made available in large numbers. The distribution would, of course, be at your own discretion.

I have before me an article (Inside cover Catholic Digest. Oct.) revealing distribution of "Union Sovietica", printed in 16 languages and circulated extensively in Latin America, FREE for the asking, in any numbers, so that the seller keeps the full price. It is said that the spitting on Mrs. Nixon was part of this propaganda scheme.

Sincerely and gratefully yours mf

The Bureau has received a letter dated 9-21-58 from [REDACTED] General Delivery, Wichita Falls, Texas, in which he refers to an article in an unnamed newspaper regarding "Masters of Deceit." This article allegedly stated that the Director "whitewashed" the Jews who [REDACTED] states are the backbone of communism in America. [REDACTED] states the public is aware that the "National Association for the Advancement of the Communist Party" is governed by the Jews and a great number of our top Government officials are also Jews who completely endorse all communist requests.

[REDACTED] further states that the public still believes in the Director but the Director should let the public know where he stands. He believes if the Director is lacking on "Backing" the Director would get all the backing he needs by appealing to the public but if the Director keeps silent the public will lose confidence.

Bufiles contain no identifiable data concerning correspondent. It appears from his letter he is a bigoted individual who has apparently been influenced by propaganda issued by various "hate groups" that Semitism is synonymous with communism and all Jews are communists. It is not believed that any reply to him over the Director's signature would serve any useful purpose and could possibly be used by the correspondent to the embarrassment of the Director and the Bureau.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the receipt of correspondent's letter not be acknowledged but that the Dallas Office be advised of its receipt and contents. Attached is a suggested letter to that office.

Dear Mr. Secretary,

Would you kindly thank Mr. Hoover for the time he took in answering my letter.

What it was after was a few words of general advice on which field of labor, he thought, was in most need of assistance - thus giving the young able men in question, , some sort of lead. I didn't know that an interview would be necessary for this. But now I understand.

So just say "thanks" to him over your phone. Even if he doesn't remember me, he'll know someone who appreciated his services.

Bye now and thanks

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I would like to make some comments on an article I have just finished reading in one of our Anti-Communist Newspapers, in regard to your "Masters of Deceit" story. This article stated, that you completely 'whitwashed' the Undercover element that the Public is aware of being the REAL ONES that are sponsoring the very thing you are supposed to be fighting. THE JEWS. The Public is completely aware of the fact that the JEWS of America are the backbone of Communism in our Country. We are also aware that the 'National Association for the Advancement of the Communist Party' is also completely governed by JEWS. We also are aware of the fact that a great number of our TOP Washington Officials are Jews, that endorse completely, ALL Communist requests, and that many are KNOWN COMMUNIST MEMBERS. We also realize that it must be hard for even a patriotic Official to exist very long where he is constantly under the pressure of mighty group, the real 'Secret Government'.

However, you have for years, pulled thru, with your diligent work, and won high honors from your general public. But today, it seems time is about to run out on you, to inform our entire Nation, just which side you are on. We still believe in you, and we are still more than ready to STAY behind you, if you will give us the chance, by "Telling Us where you stand" When an entire Nation has the feeling that our Government is betraying us, and selling us out, we have little choice to trust anyone up there. We are not at all duped by the Communist controlled magazines, such as "Look" "Life" & "TIME" as to what is actually going on. So, will you please enlighten us, BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE? True enough, we have wondered for a long time, WHY you do not have certain Communists behind bars already, such as Communist Clayton Powell (66 Communist Fronts) Eleanor Roosevelt (57 Citations) Thurgood Marshall (5 Communist Front Citations) and Thousands of others in high places. If you are lacking on 'Backing' I feel sure if you would appeal to the GENERAL PUBLIC, (in the right way) you would get all the Backing needed, overnight. BUT - if you keep 'Silent' on the newspaper charges, the Public surely will lose confidence in, even YOU. You are the ONE PERSON LEFT, that has the prestige to SAVE OUR COUNTRY. Won't you PLEASE make use of it?

The Honorable J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading Masters of Deceit. It was by far the most complete coverage of the many-faceted Communist menace I have read. It should be in every high school, college, and university library. Every student should be encouraged if not required to read it.

I assigned Witness by Whitaker Chambers as required reading for a history student. I have passed out pamphlets from The National Education Program, Searcy, Arkansas, reprints of Dr. Fred Schwarz's testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee. I have done what I could and knew to do to familiarize those about me with the true character of Communism.

I am writing this realizing that I am merely one insignificant citizen and that there is a good chance that you will never see this letter. I do hope that your staff member who does see it can tell me whether or not there are plans for publishing Masters of Deceit in a paperback edition so that it can be more widely distributed. The copy I read is from a Trenton public library. I and many others cannot afford the $5.00 edition. I want so much to be able to pass the message, the book on to others. I have already written several letters recommending its reading. If there is any hope of a paperback edition I would like to know it. I have 10 or 12 people in mind right now to whom I would like to send a copy. I've even thought of joining the Book-of-the-Month Club which I've noticed is offering a $4.50 edition, the purpose of joining--to purchase 4 or 5 copies for Christmas gifts, but even that $4.50 each is beyond my individual Christmas budget.

Therefore, I hope that I may soon have word or see on the newstands an edition that will boost the sales and thereby boost the knowledge of and effective fight against this obstacle to our American way of life and our faith in God.

Thank you so much for the book.

Sincerely and respectfully,

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Sir:

I have hesitated for some time to write this letter, knowing that next to the President of the United States - you must be the busiest man in the country, so I will be as succinct as possible.

On account of the ever-creeping threat of the 'government of Russia', which could be more fittingly described as gangster rule, to engulf by lies the gullible nations throughout the world, that threat has already got a toe-hold on a small nation at your front-door - Iceland.

Although the people of Iceland is 100% literate, and among the most highly educated peoples of the world, they have as yet to a small degree succumbed to the blandishments of the brutish Russians. This toe must be chopped off.

I have corresponded for a few years back with a cousin of mine, ^{mf} who has a high position with the government of Iceland, regarding ways and means of thwarting further inroads of communism there.

I have sent him pamphlets, newspaper clippings from the Hearst Examiner here, and various other items to strengthen him and other influential men there in the anti-communist faith, and in the hope of final extermination of that abominable ideology. ^{the final} REC-93 62-104277-983

I was lucky in being able to ~~strike~~ and most powerful blow - about a month ago when I saw your book 'Masters of Deceit', ^{OCT 7 1958} bought it and sent it to my above mentioned cousin.

Dr. Reinhardt, who appeared before the FBI National Academy yesterday afternoon and this morning, 10/6, 7/58, recently wrote a very favorable review of the Director's book "Masters of Deceit," which appeared in the September-October issue of the magazine "Police." A letter of appreciation for his review has already been written by Crime Records to Dr. Reinhardt but not yet received by him. Upon his arrival at Bureau headquarters yesterday Dr. Reinhardt mentioned that he was quite "put out" with the editor, who changed one of the sentences in the review. As it appeared it read as follows: "The man who wrote this book has no personal ax to grind, no vested interest to defend or save our common heritage of liberty. Dr. Reinhardt stated that he wrote the sentence without the word "or" in it and that it should have read: "The man who wrote this book has no personal ax to grind, no vested interest to defend save our common heritage of liberty. Dr. Reinhardt stated that in his opinion this changes the whole meaning of the sentence and he has written a letter to the editor protesting this action. He stated that he was going to ask that the next issue of "Police" carry a correction on this point. Dr. Reinhardt was thanked for his thoughtfulness in mentioning this.

BOOK REVIEWS

EDITOR'S NOTE: Among encouraging signs on the professional horizon in recent years is the increasing number of books of professional quality that are being added to the literature of the police field. Serving its readers on a constantly expanding scale, POLICE inaugurates with this issue as a regular feature, the Book Review Section, which will make available reviews and critiques of books appearing currently dealing with various phases of the law enforcement problem.

The Editorial staff of the JOURNAL is fortunate in completing arrangements for Professor Dienstein, well known in law enforcement circles, to preside over this new section. Included among his qualifications are the A.B. degree at Stanford University, the M.A. degree at the University of California and advanced graduate work toward the Ph.D. degree at Stanford. He organized and administered the Department of Criminology at Fresno State College from 1946 to 1950 and is now Associate Professor of Social Science and Criminology at that institution. During World War II he was an instructor in the Provost Marshal General's School 1942-44; Criminal Investigator and Administration Chief of the Crime Laboratory, Philippine Islands 1944-45; Korean action—Assistant Chief, Criminal Investigation, Sixth Army, 1950-52; Major, M.P.C., U.S.A.R. He is the author of two books, TECHNICS FOR THE CRIME INVESTIGATOR and ARE YOU GUILTY?, and a contributor to the professional journals.

At the time this Editorial Note is written, Professor Dienstein is on a European tour and in addition to his services with the Book Review Section, readers of the JOURNAL may look forward to other important contributions dealing with his observations of law enforcement activities in countries on the other side of the Atlantic.

J. Edgar Hoover: MASTERS OF DECEIT. The Story of Communism in America and How to Fight It, pp. 374. New York, Henry Holt and Co., 1958, $5.00.

Communism is an ugly word. It is so in the United States. Yet eight out of ten average people—according to my limited sampling—have no clear notion of what the word means or why it has a noxious sound. The average American's hate of communism is a kind of popular hate—something like hating sin. "It is an evil thing . . . Siberia . . . the poor Bulgarians. . . . Thank God I live in a free country." "Sure I hate communism. . . . Why not? You're a 'pink' if you don't."

Fortunately, and at long last, there appears a book on the subject by one who knows what communism is about; how its cards are played, and the terrifying magnitude of its stakes.

The man who wrote this book has no personal ax to grind, no vested interest to defend or save our common heritage of liberty. No man is better equipped by experience and loyalties to write a book about communism for the American people to read, than J. Edgar Hoover.

William Dienstein

This book presents the historic backgrounds of Russian communistic thought and action in Europe; its origins and development in Russia; its world-wide ambitions, and the dire nature of its threat to the peace and happiness of the American people. In this book one learns how communism operates; how its agents in the United States are organized; why people join it; reasons why some adherents want to leave the party and the difficulties of doing so. The size of the party membership in this country has shown wide variations. It rose from 7500 in 1930 to 80,000 in 1944. By 1955 membership had declined to less than 23,000. There was a further decline by the summer of 1957. These numbers are not impressive in themselves. It is significant, however, that "communist leaders" over the years, have estimated "that for every party member ten others are ready, willing and able to do the party's work." More important for Americans is the sinister revolutionary designs of communism and the treacherous cunning of its modus operandi. It must be remembered that in reality, party members comprise a small proportion of the Russian population today. Mr. Hoover reminds us that in 1945 Bulgaria had a population of a little more than 7,000,000 people. Twenty thousand communists took it over. "Under communism," says Mr. Hoover, "A tiny minority, perhaps ten to twenty men would rule the United States." It is extremely difficult for the average American, accustomed to democratic processes, under the rule of law, to assess the threat to his own way of life by less than 100,000 communists within his country's borders. Yet one "traitor" from his own ranks stirs him to the quick. Mr. Hoover brings something home that belongs there: It is that deceit is at the very heart and core of the communist doctrine and communists are masters of it. These facts are no where more glaringly exhibited than in the way the Soviets have taken over and ruled small countries, and in the whole history of her relations with the United States. How many average citizens in the United States keep a critical eye on Russo-American relations? Or have ever seen a communist worker in this country?

Mr. Hoover's book is within reach of every reading American. It is a major contribution to an intelligent understanding of the nature and declared ends of communism in the world today, and what it means to us.

The book sounds a timely warning of the evil and the risk of labelling as communists or communist sympathizers, any persons whose views one may dislike; or who for quite

Dear Mr Hoover:-

I have been greatly interested in your book MASTERS OF DECEIT and enclose a copy with this letter. It is a fine contribution to our freedom.

A young man at my old school was with us as worker and guest at our camp near Corinth, N. Y. and he spoke so often of you and FBI with the greatest admiration.

Am presenting this 17year old boy with this book for his birthday and wonder if you will be willing to autograph it, if convenient, with his name. I cannot overstate this pride and joy if you are willing to do this -- and also my thanks.

The boys name is [redacted] of Westtown School, Westtown, Penna. He comes of good solid stock and is a high grade lad.

The copy of the book is wrapped and stamped for mailing back to me. I will see that he gets it.

Thanks again,

Sincerely,

The September-October, 1958, issue of "Police" carries a review of the above-captioned book by James M. Reinhardt, Professor of Criminology, University of Nebraska. Professor Reinhardt, of course, is well known to the Bureau as a lecturer in the FBI National Academy. The review is very favorable. DO

It is felt that the Director would like to write a letter of appreciation to Reinhardt. Also a copy of the editorial should be given to Mr. Rigg for his information. Copy of review is being attached.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. That the attached letter be sent to Reinhardt over the Director's signature.
2. That the attached letter over Mr. Tolson's signature be sent to Mr. Rigg.

J. Edgar Hoover: MASTERS OF DECEIT. The Story of Communism in America and How to Fight It, pp. 374. New York, Henry Holt and Co., 1958, $5.00.

Communism is an ugly word. It is so in the United States. Yet eight out of ten average people—according to my limited sampling—have no clear notion of what the word means or why it has a noxious sound. The average American's hate of communism is a kind of popular hate—something like hating sin. "It is an evil thing . . . Siberia . . . the poor Bulgarians. . . . Thank God I live in a free country." "Sure I hate communism. . . . Why not? You're a 'pink' if you don't."

Fortunately, and at long last, there appears a book on the subject by one who knows what communism is about; how its cards are played, and the terrifying magnitude of its stakes.

The man who wrote this book has no personal ax to grind, no vested interest to defend or save our common heritage of liberty. No man is better equipped by experience and loyalties to write a book about communism for the American people to read, than J. Edgar Hoover.

This book presents the historic backgrounds of Russian communistic thought and action in Europe; its origins and development in Russia; its world-wide ambitions, and the dire nature of its threat to the peace and happiness of the American people. In this book one learns how communism operates; how its agents in the United States are organized; why people join it; reasons why some adherents want to leave the party and the difficulties of doing so. The size of the party membership in this country has shown wide variations. It rose from 7500 in 1930 to 80,000 in 1944. By 1955 membership had declined to less than 23,000. There was a further decline by the summer of 1957. These numbers are not impressive in themselves. It is significant, however, that "communist leaders" over the years, have estimated "that for every party member ten others are ready, willing and able to do the party's work." More important for Americans is the sinister revolutionary designs of communism and the treacherous cunning of its modus operandi. It must be remembered that in reality, party members comprise a small proportion of the Russian population today. Mr. Hoover reminds us that in 1945 Bulgaria had a population of a little more than 7,000,000 people. Twenty thousand communists took it over. "Under communism," says Mr. Hoover, "A tiny minority, perhaps ten to twenty men would rule the United States." It is extremely difficult for the average American, accustomed to democratic processes, under the rule of law, to assess the threat to his own way of life by less than 100,000 communists within his country's borders. Yet one "traitor" from his own ranks stirs him to the quick. Mr. Hoover brings something home that belongs there: It is that deceit is at the very heart and core of the communist doctrine and communists are masters of it. These facts are no where more glaringly exhibited than in the way the Soviets have taken over and ruled small countries, and in the whole history of her relations with the United States. How many average citizens in the United States keep a critical eye on Russo-American relations? Or have ever seen a communist worker in this country?

Mr. Hoover's book is within reach of every reading American. It is a major contribution to an intelligent understanding of the nature and declared ends of communism in the world today, and what it means to us.

The book sounds a timely warning of the evil and the risk of labelling as communists or communist sympathizers, any persons whose views one may dislike; or who for quite independent reasons may happen to endorse a cause supported by communists. "Smears, character assassination and the scattering of irresponsible charges, have no place in this nation. They create division, suspicion and distrust among loyal Americans—just what the communists want. . . ."

The book is well written and well documented. It contains a good glossary and index.

Dear Mr. Hoover,

I have just finished reading your book "Masters of Deceit."
I enjoyed it tremendously.

Although I am only 16 years old, and you might think I am too young to understand, I did and enjoyed it very much.

Before reading it, I never thought much about the problem of Communism. Now, I know how it started, and could give a fairly good account of Communism.

This was the first of your books that I read, but I plan to read more of them if I can locate them.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Recently I have read your book "Masters of Deceit." I am very satisfied with it because it in a clear, convincing language tears off the deceitful mask of Communism and reveals Communism as the greatest enemy of mankind.

I escaped from my native country Lithuania in 1944, before the Red Imperialists occupied it for the second time. During their first occupation in 1940-1941 I had enough opportunities to see Communism in practice and what terrible physical and moral misery it brought to my old country.

I wish your book the widest distribution on this continent and in all English reading countries. I hope that sooner or later it will be published in a paper-bound, pocket-size book and in this way will be even more distributed than now.

Good luck!

The Salt Lake City Office by letter dated 10/1/58 captioned "Marilyn R. Allen, Security Matter--M" furnished a copy of a pamphlet entitled "Confusion Compounded" written by Allen. This pamphlet contains very severe criticism of the Director and "Masters of Deceit." The theme of the criticism is that Mr. Hoover is a tool of Jewish elements and that his book is a "whitewash" for the Jewish groups in the Nation.

"Then for him (Hoover) to further cast an aura of heroism, and to do a complete whitewash job on the two Organized Minorities (ADL and NAACP) that have done so much to bring America to her present catastrophic position, is not only to forfeit the respect and confidence accorded him, but to earn the contempt of true, dedicated, informed and self-sacrificing Patriots of America; and to put himself forever beyond this Pale."

File 105-9879 reflects that the Bureau has received previous literature written by Allen in which she attacks "Masters of Deceit." Allen has been an associate of Gerald L. K. Smith, and apparently devotes her time to writing anticommunist material. She is also violently anti-Semitic and anti-Negro.

RECOMMENDATION:

No action. For information.

CRIME REC.

66 OCT 24 1958

SEP 30 1958

WHO ARE THEY?

There are five types of Communist members or "helpers" who enable Communism to be spread throughout the country. - It is important to know a little about each type in order to be able to recognize them and, thereby, help to lessen their influence in controlling our thoughts and activities.

The five types include: "open" party members; concealed party members; follow travelers and sympathizers; opportunists; and dupes.

(1) "Open" party members: Regular party membership. - It is the area of highest thought control, which is the core of communist strength. - These individuals, after indoctrination, become full-fledged revolutionaries, pledged to stick with the Party at all times; they must be completely obedient.

(2) Concealed party members: the individual who, though accepting Party discipline, does not wish his affiliation to be publicly known. The concealed communist because he is not known as a communist, can often advance the Party's cause among people and in organizations where an open member would be scorned. - Concealed communists are found in all fields and can greatly influence the thoughts of millions of people. They are difficult to identify and, being concealed, can operate freely in non-communist groups.

(3) Follow travelers and sympathizers: The follow traveler, while not a member, actively supports (travels with) the Party's program for a period of time. The sympathizer sympathizes with the Party or individual members on specific issues. Perhaps they may have been influenced by Marxist writings or the professed aims of the Party on certain issues. - The value of follow travelers and sympathizers lies in their non-communist affiliation. - They are valuable to the Party as financial contributors, vocal mouthpieces, or contacts between Party officials and non-communists. They constitute, in fact, fronts for, and defenders of, the Communist Party.

(4) Opportunists: Individuals who, if they can benefit personally, will knowingly support the Party in return for support or favors from it. - Opportunists are cynical and self-seeking, not caring that by cooperating with the communists, even though temporarily, they are injuring the nation.

(5) Dupes: A dupe, or innocent victim, is the individual who unknowingly is under communist thought control and does the work of the Party. - Communist propaganda is tailored to attract non-communists. Its strategy and tactics are covered with attractive, appealing words, such as "freedom," "justice," and "equality." The communists claim they are working for a "better world," that they have the answer to discrimination, and economic want. Many well-meaning citizens, attracted by those words and not seeing behind the communist intentions, have been swept into the communist thought control net. - These individuals never see the inside, the real communism, the terror, injustice, and slavery. The great majority are loyal, but deceived, citizens.

Dear [REDACTED]

We appreciate your plan to send the books to various libraries in memory of Dad. We do not think you should give so many. Why not send about half as many?

It was very thoughtful of you to send us the proposed list for approval. We agree on all of them except "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover. For many years Dad was an admirer of Mr. Hoover but in the last year or so he had lost all confidence in him. He felt that Mr. Hoover had come under the influence of forces which are detrimental to the best interests of our Country. In deference to Dad's feeling about this we ask that you please delete this book from your list.

While we do love flowers and did appreciate all that were received we do think the placing of good pro-America books in our libraries is a wonderful memorial. The entire family joins me in thanking you and [REDACTED]

Sincerely yours,

Dear [redacted]

I have received your letter of October 15, 1958, advising that you will review "Masters of Deceit" for the Literature Department of the Fort Dodge Women's Club on November 18. I sincerely appreciate your kind comments regarding my book.

In connection with your request, I would like to suggest that you emphasize to these ladies that it is the duty of every citizen to learn more about the serious and continuing menace of communism which threatens the future of all of us. To defeat communism, it is important for us to understand what it is, how it works and how we can effectively combat it.

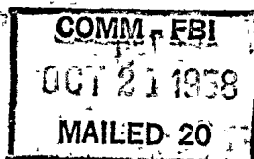

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I have chosen to review your recent book "Masters of Deceit" for the Literature Department of the Fort Dodge Women's Club on Nov. 18.

I consider this a privilege and a responsibility to try to present the evils of the Communist threat to our country.

What do you suggest that I especially emphasize to this group of women - mostly wives and mothers? A statement from you would lend great emphasis to my review and form a personal bond between author and audience.

I consider Masters of Deceit the best work yet done on this subject, and am encouraging everyone to read it.

Respectfully yours,

On 10/20/58, upon referral from the Director's Office, SA F. C. Stukenbroeker, Crime Records Section, talked to Colonel Williams, Army Magazine and Book Branch, Pentagon. Williams stated that he had received a communication from Colonel Ryan, 5th Army, Chicago, in which Ryan indicated that his command desired to quote portions of "Masters of Deceit" in material designed for distribution among the troops. Williams indicated that he did not understand fully what Colonel Ryan intended, but apparently the material had been prepared by G-2. Williams asked what steps should be taken to secure permission to quote from "Masters of Deceit." From Williams' conversation, it appeared that the quotations would be rather substantial in number and length.

Colonel Williams was advised that he should contact Mr. Edgar T. Rigg, President, Henry Holt and Company. It was pointed out that the publisher was the one who could give him this permission.

On 9-12-58 [REDACTED] wrote the Director and stated she would like to have an appointment with Mr. Hoover or someone in his office at the time she visited Washington on October 16 through October 19, 1958. She enclosed with her letter some material indicating she was [REDACTED] of "Book Reporters, Incorporated," and she furnished a series of lessons on book reporting and indicated in her letter that she was happy that the Director's new book, "Masters of Deceit," would be reviewed by all the Book Reporters' groups in California. She stated it would be compulsory for every group to review the Director's book as it had been recommended by the Executive Board for the Year 1959.

On Friday afternoon, 10/17/58, upon referral from the Director's Office, SA [REDACTED] interviewed [REDACTED] and one of her co-workers, [REDACTED] Executive Assistant of the "Book Reporters," a non-profit organization located at 8811 South Cimmaron Street, Los Angeles 47, California.

[REDACTED] letter [REDACTED] merely reiterated to SA [REDACTED] what she had said in her letter to the Director. She added the fact that her profession is "psychology" and she conducts regular classes in Los Angeles. She stated her husband is a stockbroker for the Paine Webber Company.

[REDACTED] main objective in visiting the Bureau was to try to get a letter of recommendation from the Director similar to a letter dated September 3, 1958, of the "TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN TYPE." This letter was sent into Mr. Hoover with her original letter of September 12 and it was signed by [REDACTED] informed [REDACTED] that Mr. Hoover did not give out letters of this type and as for recommending her book reporting project it was not within the purview of the Bureau's jurisdiction. She then asked if Mr. Hoover would recommend certain books to her for review by her various clubs and again the Bureau's jurisdiction was explained to her and she was advised it would be impossible for the Director to recommend certain books to her at regular intervals as she desired.

History of Mental Shop Awards

Issued by
The National Executive Board of
"The Mental Shop, Inc."
February 16, 1957

"WHAT IS THE MENTAL SHOP?"

The Mental Shop is exactly what the name implies— a shopping guide in activities concerning mental adjustment and soul evolverment with discrimination in shopping left to the shopper, believing that we "see truth as we are able to see truth", and that in the end each must find his own way.

The Mental Shop is dedicated to the precepts set down in the Constitution of the United States of America and to the little understood principal of love and active life example as exemplified by the man, Jesus.

However, let it be understood that Mental Shop is an "open market-place of ideas" which embraces all religions, races, and philosophies, and has nothing to sell except the "open viewpoint".

"The Mental Shop" is guided by an Executive Board under the leadership of the founders, Jim and J'Nevelyn Terrell. All leaders, speakers and performers render their services without pay.

This organization consists of a group of people who organized December 6, 1947 and incorporated March 22, 1950 as a non-profit organization in the State of California.

The group was investigated by the Department of Social Service in the City of Los Angeles and approved for Charity Benefit in November, 1951.

HOW TO BE A MENTAL SHOP MEMBER

- (1) There are no requirements of duty or dues. You can be admitted to any meeting by giving one dollar contribution or by requesting a guest ticket.
- (2) If you wish to contribute time, money, or labor because you believe in the cause of the "open viewpoint" and its importance, please contact the president or the founders.
- (3) If you want to sit in Mental Shop audience, please understand that you are not expected to attend all of the lengthy program. Intermission is provided so you may leave or absent yourself for any part you do not care for, have refreshments at some nearby place and return. Please do this between parts of the program, which will be kept on time from 7:00 o'clock to 10:15.
- (4) Please register any request for a speaker with the founders.

ABOUT THE FOUNDERS

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Terrell have guided the "open viewpoint" forum since 1947.

Mr. Terrell is a broker with a New York Stock Exchange firm who spends his spare time promoting this cause and directing specifically the activities of the Prayer Chain.

They are the parents of a college boy and girl, Jim and Patricia.

Mrs. Terrell was an actress, director, playwright, and teacher before coming to California from Texas.

She has been a lecturer for the Los Angeles Adult Education in Parent Education and Psychology and a member of the counseling staff of the American Institute of Family Relations under Dr. Paul Popenoe and now conducts classes in psychology.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell will be glad to answer any questions about The Mental Shop at

HISTORY OF MENTAL SHOP AWARDS

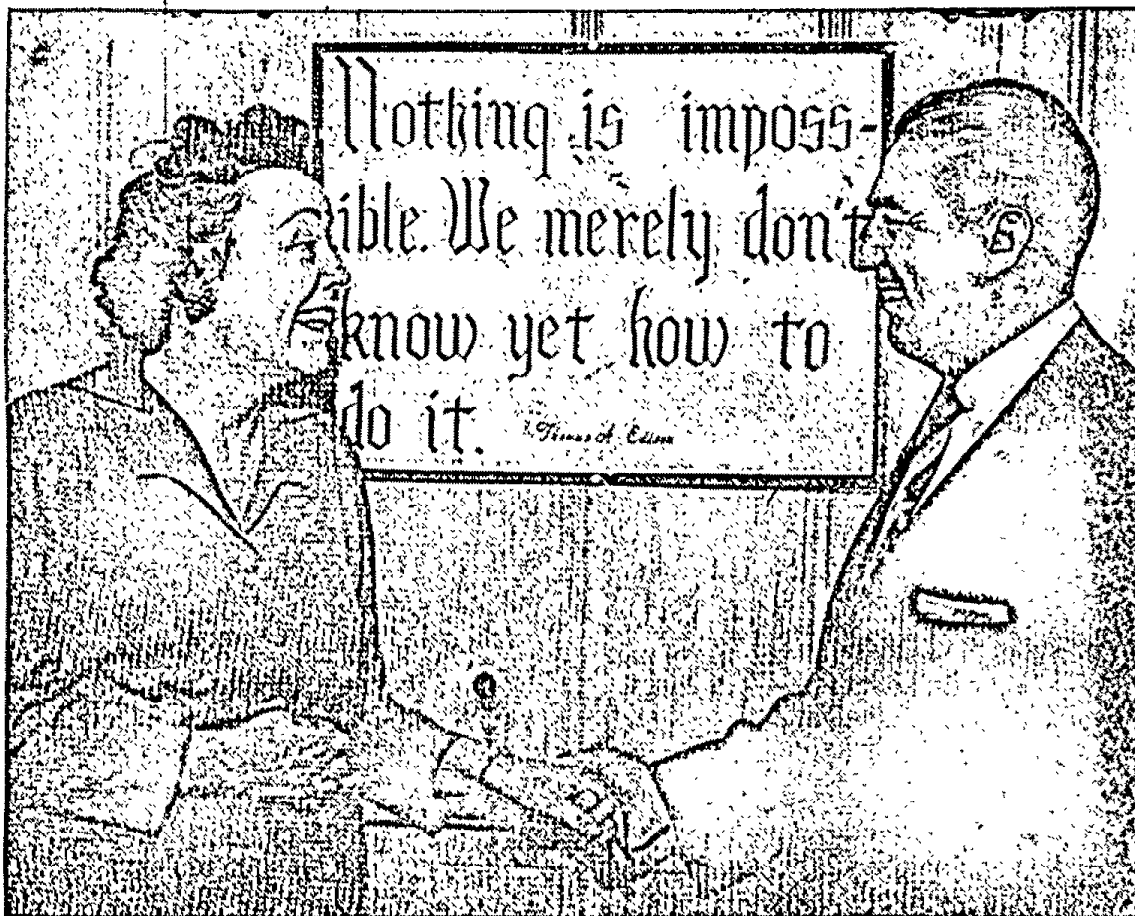

The history of Mental Shop awards begins with the Distinguished Citizenship Award which was presented to Dr. Hugh M. Tiner, president of Pepperdine College on December 6, 1947. He was followed by Judge William R. Mc Kay of the Superior Court, Dr. Fritz Kunkel, world famous psycho-therapist and author, Helen R. Girvin, Founder of "Books and Authors", Dr. Paul Popenoe, Director of the American Institute of Family Relations, Dr. William Hornaday, Minister of the First Church of Religious Science, Jack Bailey of "Queen for a Day", and Jan Clayton of "Lassie" who received her award on February 12, 1956.

Except for the first year, each occasion has been a dinner. Due to the outstanding growth of Mental Shop, it was decided to abandon the yearly dinners in 1957, thereby permitting more people to see the awards presented.

There have been no rules set concerning the nomination or election of candidates for awards. However, all ideas proposed are considered.

As a whole it might be said that the successful candidate has shown by his life, awareness of the practice of the principle of love and its importance to the solution of the world's ills.

"The Mental Shop" makes no defense for its right to give an award. Upon being asked the reason for "Mental Shop" awards, J'Nevelyn was heard to quote from Samuel Johnson— "Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value only to its scarcity".

This must be the way Jim and J'Nevelyn Terrell felt before December 6, 1947, the day upon which "The Mental Shop" was founded, for they certainly started what was called by many an impossible task, but they took seriously the warning of Thomas A. Edison; they'd find out how to do it. Is THAT why they started out with a "pat on the back" for the other fellow in this impossible task?

Or was J'Nevelyn thinking about those ten years she taught high school back in Texas, and the day she walked into the auditorium to find the whole student body standing and waiting for her to receive the football, the one with all the boys' names written on it? But she came to California with the football and George Washington who came down from the wall of her classroom came, too, and Texas was almost erased from sight except for the fact that even the center pieces of crochet were made as a Lone Star and all that love as big as Texas she had to give away. Is this how those awards started?

Dr. Hugh M. Tiner, President of Pepperdine College, deserves great credit for Mental Shop's existence. He spoke on United Nations at the first meeting in "Oakwood Acres", the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kenneth Coates in Flintridge. "Too much credit could never be given him in his great active wisdom in behalf of Humanity. Because he was our first Distinguished Citizen, our awards had to reach status."—Jim and J'Nevelyn.

Our Second Distinguished Citizen was one of the nation's greatest humanitarians, the late William R. McKay, Judge of the Superior Court. This picture finds him lecturing on the Constitution of the United States at a restaurant in Inglewood, California, to a small group. Great growth came to Mental Shop only after moving to Hollywood;

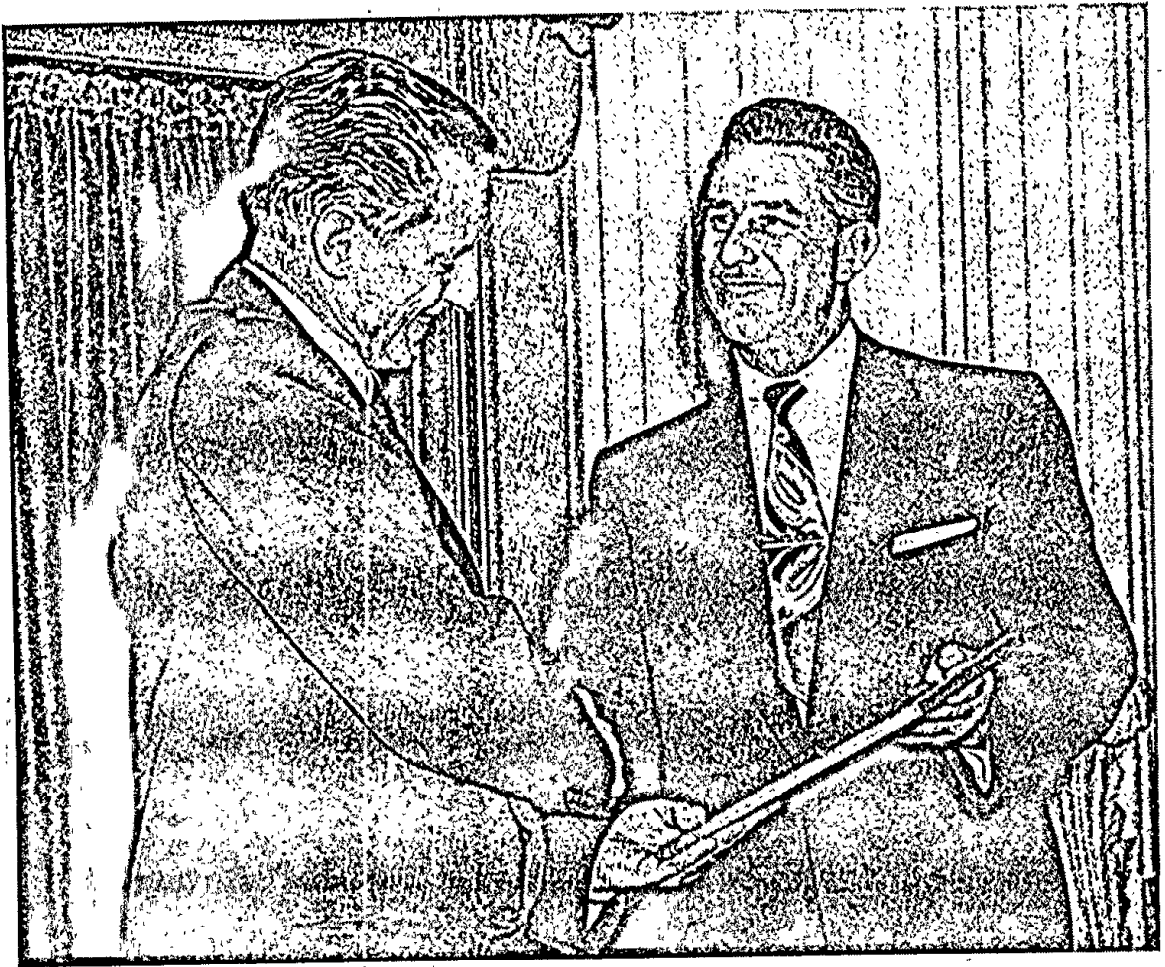

Mental Shop was among the first to greet the late Dr. Fritz Kunkel when he came from Europe, with a Distinguished Citizenship Award as its way of honoring his fine background in medicine, psychiatry, and authorship. Our picture finds J'Nevelyn complimenting him on the unusual value of his great books to people solving problems.

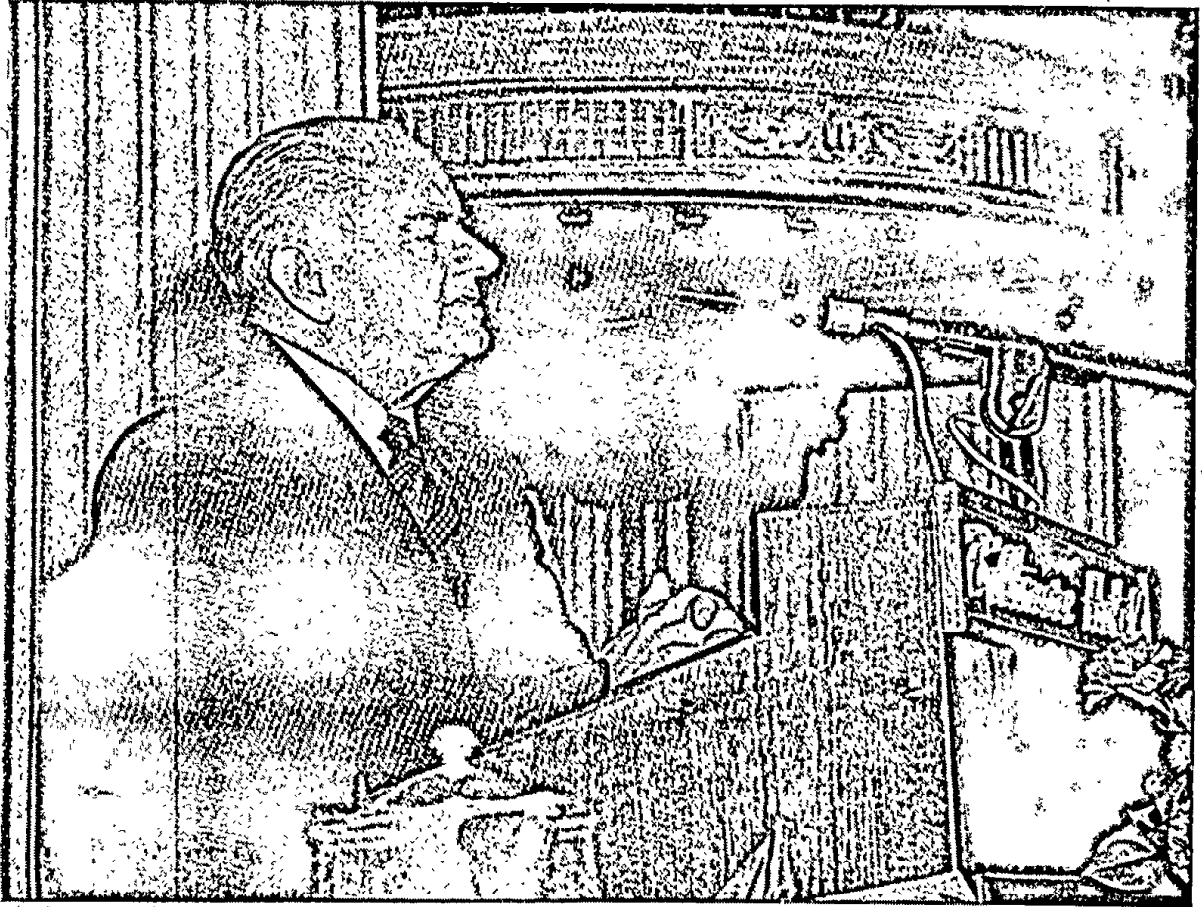

Jim says this was one of the greatest days in J'Nevelyn's life—when Mental Shop Executive Board presented the Distinguished Citizenship Award to Dr. Paul Popenoe, Director of the American Institute of Family Relations. As a counseling associate of Dr. Popenoe, Mrs. Terrell had learned to call him one of the world's most successful and sincere benefactors. Reading from left to right—Lewis R. Clayton, president of The Mental Shop, Dr. Popenoe, Helen R. Girvin, Founder of "Books and Authors", who received Distinguished Citizenship a year before Dr. Popenoe, J'Nevelyn and Jim Terrell.

Hotel Statler was the setting which honored the distinguished career of Dr. Bula Williams, Founder-Director of the College of Human Relations, the person whose classes and counseling had assisted Jim and J'Nevelyn so much.

By 1953 so many members of Mental Shop were in the audience of Dr. William Hornaday that he was easily made Distinguished Citizen by an overwhelming majority. Jim presented the award at the Biltmore Hotel.

No doubt Dr. Ernest Holmes not only congratulated Dr. Hornaday but was happy to hear of Mental Shop's enthusiastic research report on the practicality of Religious Science for all.

In 1954 Mental Shop proudly announced a "King for a Day" Dinner for the "Queen for a Day" man, Jack Bailey, at Hollywood Athletic Club. He is shown here with J'Nevelyn and Sue Berkland, editor of Junior Journal, who received an award at the same time.

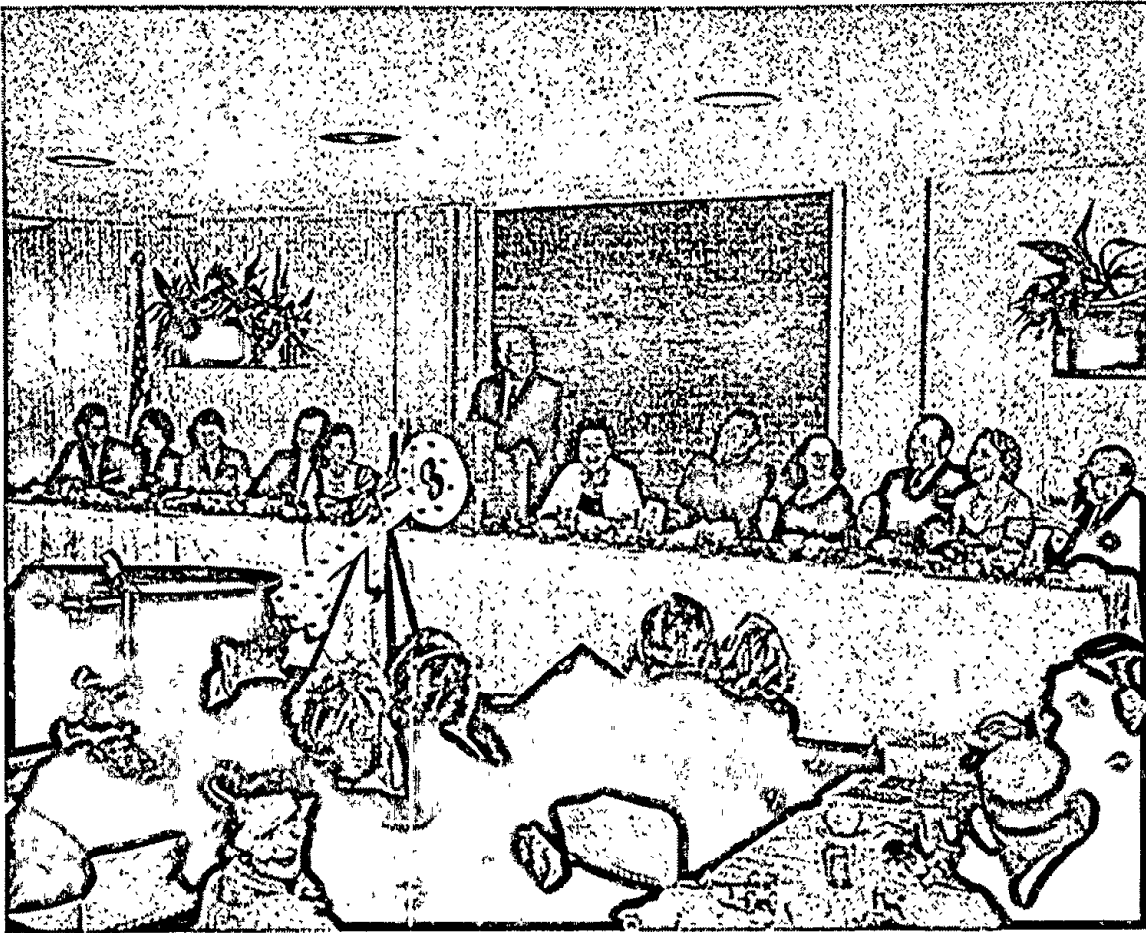

1955 was Jan Clayton's year. The star of "Lassie" received her award at the Knickerbocker Hotel and was honored because of her interest in the problems of youth.

It was on March 13, 1955, that Larry Finley gave J'Nevelyn an award as "Ideal Personality of the Week"—"Whatever that is", said J'Nevelyn. This was on the television show "Strictly Informal", which title suited the founder of "The Mental Shop."

Jim had his own "ace in the hole" at the 1955 dinner. He made the treasured gesture of all award events when he surprised J'Nevelyn with a medal for twenty-five years of Distinguished Marital Service.

Most Mental Shop award dinners have looked like this except that no other speaker has been able to do so much to so many—at which Jim hid his face, Bessie Mona Lasky, Dr. Hugh M. Tiner, and Elizabeth Talbot-Martin laughed hilariously. Jesse L. Lasky gave a round of applause and Jan Clayton turned her back on Johnnie Grant. The speaker holding forth was Edward M. Shattuck, nationally famous attorney, who had just been called a Key Citizen, which “could hardly measure this man”, said Jim and J’Nevelyn.

THE BESSIE MONA LASKY ROSE

November 18, 1951, marked the founding of the Bessie Mona Lasky Rose Award. The scene was the Ambassador Hotel, at an exhibit of Mrs. Lasky's paintings.

The inspiration came as a result of the feeling and compassion stirred by her painting of Saint Therese.

The wearers of the rose become joined in the Invisible in the cause of love for Humanity's sake.

It is actually a very significant award for the wearers of the rose have been observed in the silent expression of the deeds of the good heart which the Knights and Ladies of the Round Table call Distinguished Service Beyond the Ego.

Bessie Mona Lasky, with her painting of Saint Therese.

Bessie Mona Lasky

- Jim Terrell was made the Knight of the Flashing Smile when his rose was pinned by Dr. Paul Popenoe in the year 1951 at the Mona Lisa Restaurant. He is shown with the distinguished Bessie Mona Lasky.

Mrs. Stanley Kenneth Coates has just received the Bessie Mona Lasky Rose, and she is about to present the Celebrity of the Year Award to Rosemary Lick for her efforts with the Ruby Ball in behalf of the Exceptional Children's Foundation.

MOTION PICTURE AWARDS

Mental Shop began to take an active interest in motion pictures in about the year, 1950. It was felt at that time that good films had more chance to educate and influence the public mind than any other media of expression.

It was worthwhile they thought to find out what kind of pictures were most popular at several levels of public taste, so they began to take surveys in grade schools, high schools, colleges, on street cars and busses, and they rang door bells asking, "What picture did you like this year?"

They even created an award called the "Experts' Choice" and another known as "The Housewives Favorite."

Among pictures given recognition through the years are: "The Great Caruso", "When Worlds Collide", "Jim Thorpe All-American", "Showboat", "The Miracle of Fatima", "Scaromouche". "With A Song in My Heart". "One Minute to Zero", "Julius Ceasar". "Roman Holiday", "Shane", "Stalag 17", "Carmen Jones", "The Sniper", "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers", "From Here to Eternity", "The High and the Mighty", "Caine Mutiny", "East of Eden", "To Hell and Back", "Marty", "Mr. Roberts", and "Along the Waterfront".

These pictures have always been selected far in advance of other awards given by other groups.

Many schools and colleges have participated in the research from time to time. Outstanding among them have been the Cinematography Department of U. S. C. and the Drama Department of Pepperdine College.

Crozier Junior High School of Inglewood and Hawthorne Intermediate School have done much of the research.

The high schools rendering service have been John Fremont of Los Angeles, Leuzinger of Hawthorne, Redondo Beach Union, and El Segundo.

Many interesting features have occurred. Both U. C. L. A. and Leuzinger High School picked "Shane" as the best picture and Pepperdine College and Crozier Junior High School each chose "Stalag 17". That was in 1953.

In the year 1955 both grammar school children and high school students chose Audie Murphy's "To Hell and Back".

Some of the awards have over a thousand votes of school children behind them.

AWARDS FOR 1956

"Love Me Tender". Research in El Segundo Junior High School.

"Giant" and "The King and I". A tie in the research vote of El Segundo High School.

"Oklahoma". Research in Pepperdine College.

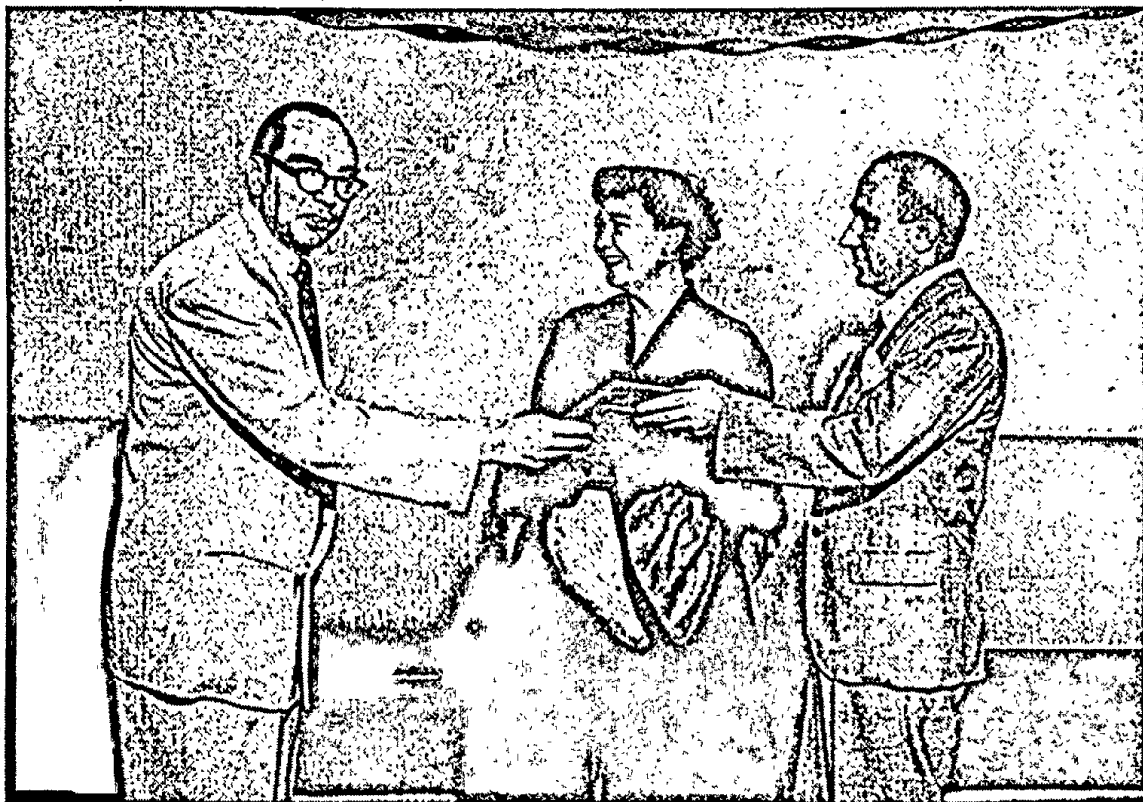

"The Ten Commandments", Mental Shop's Award for Humanitarian Service.

"Lust for Life". A Committee of Experts.

MOTION PICTURE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

This picture was made when Neville Brand received an award for his portrayal of a convict in "Riot in Cell Block 11" which was produced by Walter Wanger. It was during a panel discussion of rehabilitation in crime that he was surrounded by three members of the Advisory Committee—Sylvia Norris and Dora Albert of the Hollywood Foreign Correspondents' Association, and Betty Lasky, motion picture reviewer.

John Carey, president of "The Mental Shop" presented an award to screen writers Edward and Edna Anhalt because of the significance of their work in "The Sniper". A Stanley K. Kramer production.

Bryan Foy producer of "The Miracle of Fatima" had just received the Housewives' Favorite award. On his left was Dr. Bula Williams, mother of movie star Esther Williams.

Jessie L. Lasky, Jr., was pinch-hitting for his father at this Award dinner. He has just presented an award for "Scaramouche" which was received by Richard Anderson in behalf of Metro Goldwyn-Mayer.

"LUST FOR LIFE"—The most mature film of 1956. A film biography with the highest of artistic values and meaningful performances from Kirk Douglas and Company.

"AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS"—Mike Todd brings showmanship at its best back to the movies with the aid of Jules Verne and S. J. Perelman.

"FRIENDLY PERSUASION"—William Wyler romances the American scene with strong support from Gary Cooper.

"GIANT"—The popular film of the year. A mixed canvas with the broad sweep and electrifying composition that mark the work of George Stevens.

"THE TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON"—The comedy hit of 1956. A compelling mixture of slapstick and sentiment with knockout performances from Glenn Ford and Marlon Brando.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"—DeMille brings the full force of the Bible to the screen and manages to make it as timely as today's news. A fascinating study of Egyptology, with occasional poetic dialogue, and a strong performance from Charlton Heston.

"THE RAINMAKER"—A delightful rendition of a Broadway play with superb performances from Katharine Hepburn and company.

"MOBY DICK"—A distinguished and altogether wonderful film in the classic tradition. Accolades to John Huston for his courage and perservance.

"WAR AND PEACE"—A kaleidoscopic view of Tolstoy's great epic. Result: A combination of right and wrong, with photography to make you dream, plus Audrey Hepburn.

"THE KING AND I"—A dazzling musical that fits the big screen to perfection.

Jim Terrell had the pleasure of presenting an award to producer Stanley Kramer for "Caine Mutiny". Mental Shop had been particularly impressed with the importance of the portrayal of paranoid behavior.

In the year 1954, we see Russ Tamblyn, who had just picked up an award for "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and smiling Joe Adams who was honored because of "Carmen Jones".

Ted McCord, who was in charge of the cinematography in "East of Eden" received an award from research at the University of Southern California.

Mr. Jesse L. Lasky, motion picture producer has been a beloved figure at Mental Shop affairs through the years. We see him at the 1955 dinner congratulating "Miss Ceylon" of the International Beauty Pageant.

THE JESSE L. LASKY AWARD

Since the beginning of Mental Shop motion picture awards, there has been a plan to name the award for Mr. Jesse L. Lasky. However, it was decided that a length of time should pass, so that the organization could be sure that the research was significant, and that, it would be a continued activity,

In the Tenth Anniversary Year it was decided to name the award for Mr. Lasky and do it in lasting bronze to honor the permanent significance of Mr. Lasky's career as a pioneer in motion pictures.

In view of the humanitarian qualities of Mr. Lasky's personality it is fitting that the Jesse L. Lasky Award should come from school children and the public at large.

This beautiful bronze etched plate will be a lasting reminder of the producer of "Sergeant York", "Adventures of Mark Twain", "Rhapsody in Blue", "The Miracle of the Bells", and many, many others including the pioneer achievement "The Squaw Man".

Mental Shop readers are very enthusiastic about all of the works of the late Margaret Lee Runbeck. Here she is being praised for "Answer Without Ceasing".

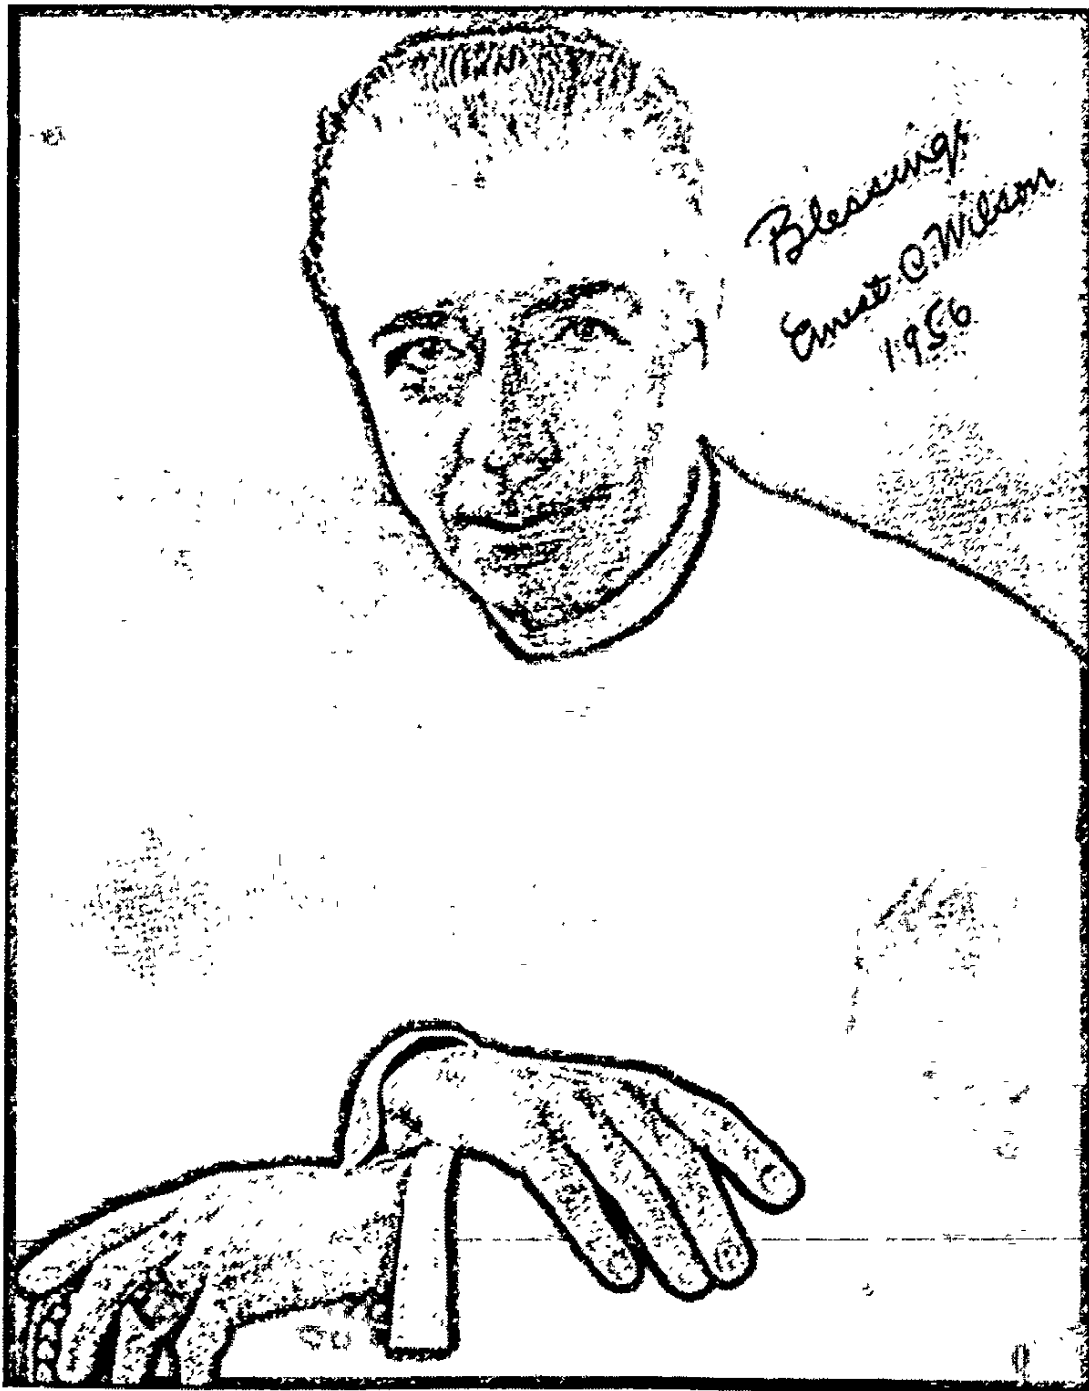

No awards booklet could be complete without The Mental Shop reminding the reader that the research being conducted by Reverend Franklin Loehr of the Religious Research Foundation is potent and important.

1957 has ushered in a tremendous success for Shirley Thomas and her television show, "Traveling Stars" on K.T.T.V. Mental Shop is recognizing her distinguished Citizenship because of her show in international understanding. She is shown here in Phi Beta presentation with J'Nevelyn and Patricia Morrison of "Kiss Me Kate."

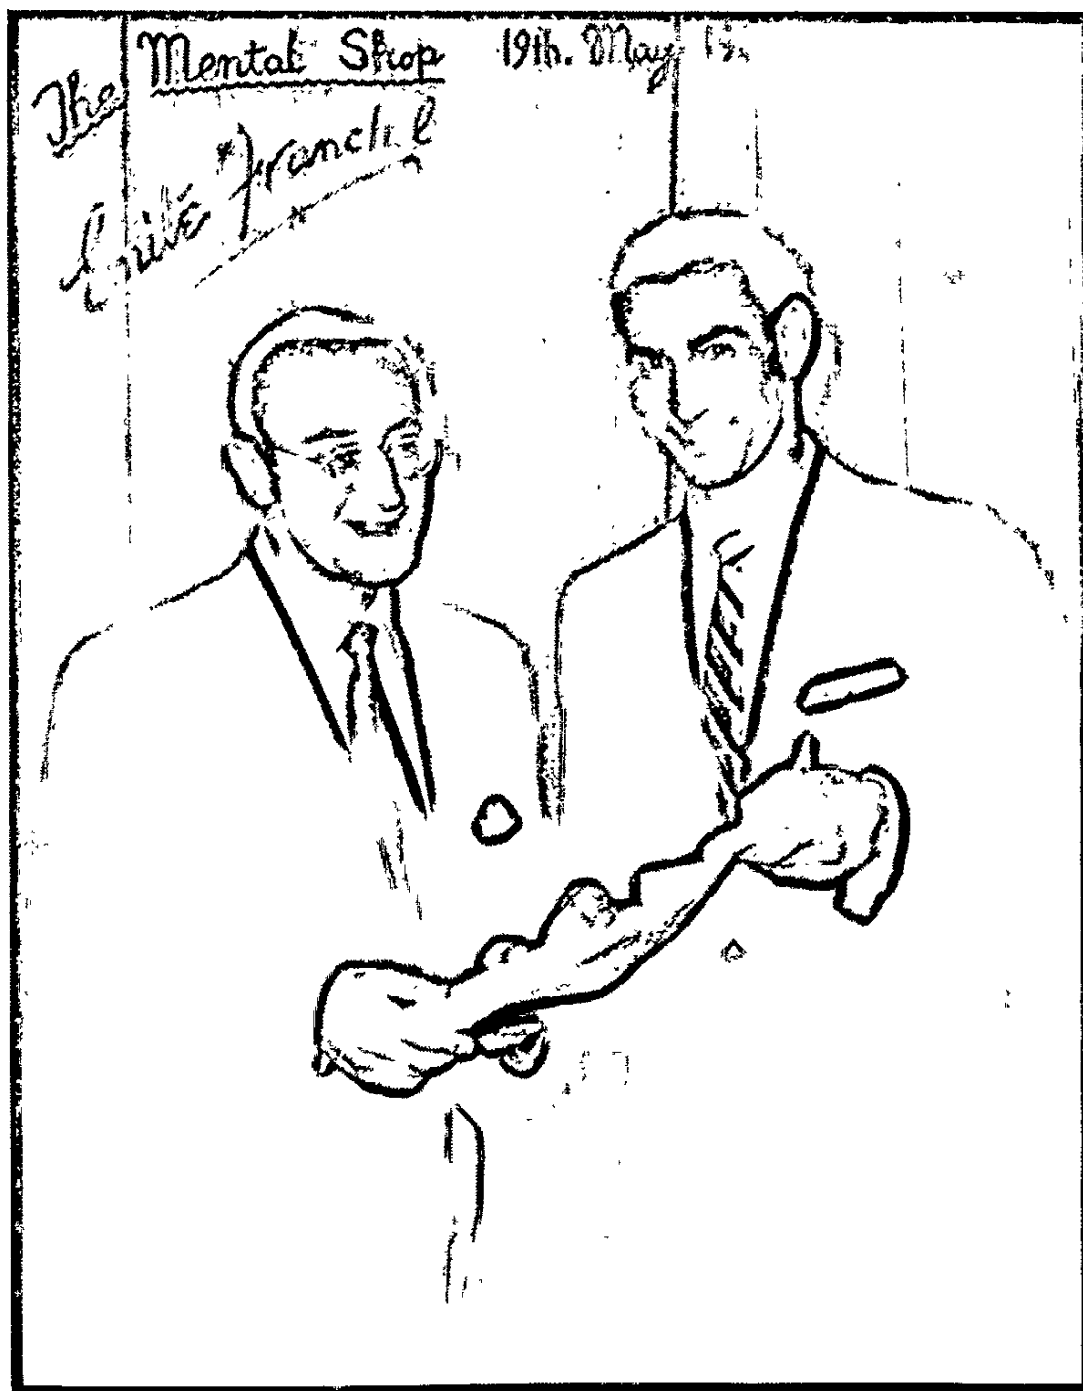

As Tenth Anniversary Book Award loomed up for attention, certain people in Mental Shop started plugging Harpers' "Kinship With All Life" by J. Allen Boone. This book was best for John Doe who had no previous knowledge of psychology, psychiatry, metaphysics, or any religion. It was practical.

It was a great day for Mental Shop when Dr. Ernest C. Wilson of Unity accepted an award for his very outstanding book "Have You Lived Other Lives?" Dec 8, 1956 was significant for another reason, also Nearly a hundred people could not find seats.

Harold Sherman, who is the author of a book concerning mental telepathy called "Thoughts Through Space" was given a Key Citizenship award in 1955 because of the impressive value of this book and the many others he has written. He is shown here with his lovely wife, Martha.

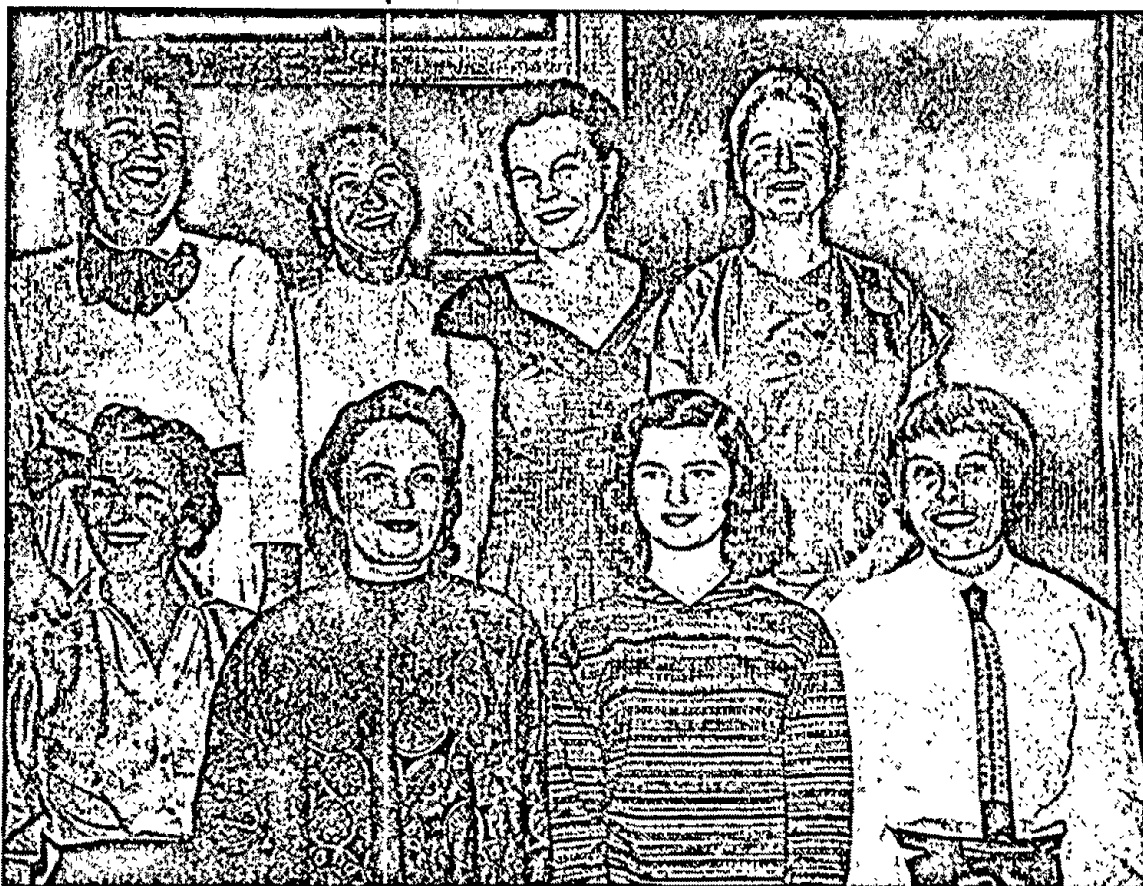

Because of his efforts to help man to understand himself through the medium of hypnotism on television, Emile' Franchel was presented an award by Garo Enjaian, president of "The Mental Shop", in May 1956.

Dr. William H. D. Hornaday, Minister of the First Church of Religious Science, has been chosen as a Mental Shop's Tenth Anniversary World Citizen. This is due to the value estimated concerning his trip to Europe and his visit with the world-renowned psychologist, Dr. Carl Jung of Switzerland.

1956 recognizes the Distinguished Citizenship of Robert and Earlyne Chaney of Astra Foundation with its five thousand members in every country in the world.

Dear [REDACTED]

I have had an occasion to read your article entitled "Know Your Enemy" which appeared in "The New York Sunday News" on October 12, 1958, and I wanted to extend my compliments upon such a splendid article.

Your points concerning the threat of atheistic communism to universal freedom are well taken, and I am pleased that you chose to mention my book, "Masters of Deceit," as a source of enlightenment on communism and its fallacies. In this connection, I thought you might like to have a copy of my book, and I have autographed one to you which is being forwarded under separate cover.

Enclosed is an article published in the New York Sunday News under date of 10/12/58, which was brought to my attention on 10/16/58. The last paragraph states in part, "Skilled instructors, using as a text such a book as J. Edgar Hoover's 'Masters of Deceit,' can do much in conditioning our youth to withstand Communist propaganda and brainwashing."

The author, [redacted] is the 17 year old son of Police Lieutenant [redacted] Bayonne, N. J., Police Department. Lieutenant [redacted] enjoys a good reputation with his fellow officers in the Bayonne Police Department and is quite friendly with this office. The Newark indices are negative with respect to him and his son. [redacted] resides at 44 West 33rd Street, Bayonne, N. J.

It would be greatly appreciated if the Director would autograph a copy of his book, "Masters of Deceit" for young [redacted], "Best Wishes, J. Edgar Hoover". This book may either be forwarded to the Newark Office for delivery or the Director may desire to forward the book directly to [redacted] at his residence with a letter over the Director's signature.

Enclosed is a check in the amount of $2.95 for this book.

KNOW YOUR ENEMY

By HOWARD BERKOWITZ

(Bayonne HS, Senior)

Today the world is divided into two hostile armed camps—Communism and Capitalism. These ideologies are engaging in a "cold war," trying, chiefly by means of propaganda, to gain the support of the neutral nations of the world. Our biggest fault is belittling the Russians; this pernicious over-confidence is closely followed by our ignorance. We think of Khrushchev as an inebriated braggart.

In reality, he is a very dangerous man whose true character is manifested in his morbid threat: "We shall bury you." The Communists are confessed atheists; however, they will use religion—or anything else—as a means to an end. They organized a religious revival in order to prod their people into fighting Hitler. Their word is worthless; their treaties are tantamount in value to the famous—or infamous—one Neville Chamberlain made with Hitler.

At Yalta, Stalin took Roosevelt over the proverbial hurdles. Although he had been assured of the successful development of the A-bomb for use against Japan, one of FDR's paramount objectives at the Yalta Conference was to convince Russia to enter the war against Japan.

Stalin, knowing that Japan had asked for the Allies' surrender terms via Moscow, magnanimously agreed to enter the conflict after Germany surrendered. Stalin withheld this information, entered the Far Eastern fight ONE WEEK before Japan's surrender and took all the credit for defeating the Japanese. If Russia practiced this chicanery, treachery and deceit as our ally, what can we expect at any future summit conference?

These and many other facts about Communism should be promulgated among the youth of America. We must abandon the "ostrich method" of treating this problem. Instead, we should establish classes in every high school, pointing out the fallacies in the Communist credo. Skilled instructors, using as a text such a book as J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit," can do much in conditioning our youth to withstand Communist propaganda and brainwashing. Thus, by knowing the full truth, we can laugh at the Communists' farcical half-truths.

Howard Berkowitz, 17, scored a double hit with his essay—a $25 prize from THE NEWS and five extra points toward his final English mark. His teacher at Bayonne High School, Mrs. Beatrice Harellick, will give the points to any of her students who win the weekly contest. The son of Bayonne Police Lt. Albert and Mrs. Berkowitz of 44 W. 33d St., Howard is an honor student, copy editor of the yearbook and coaches PAL basketball.

Chosen to take part in one of the most exciting adventures of the atomic age, a seagoing engineer from Hudson County has been assigned to a key job on the world's first nuclear-powered merchant ship, the Savannah.

With 15 other marine engineers from various parts of the U.S., Lawrence Peter King, 24, of 321 79th St., North Bergen, entered intensive training this week in preparation for the history-making launching next year.

15-mo. Training

The pioneers in modern shipping will undergo a rugged 15 months of training before the Savannah's first trials and tests are made in 1960. The cargo-passenger vessel is being built for the Maritime Administration of the U.S. Department of Commerce at the N.Y. Shipbuilding Corp. yard at Camden, N. J.

The training program for the ship, to be operated by the United States Marine Corp. line, is under the direction of the administration and the Atomic Energy Commission.

A native of Jersey City, King was graduated at St. Peter's Prep and the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. He has had two years sea service with the merchant marine.
